

Infection Control Practices for Nurses Workshop
5th -6th October 2018

Jointly organized by College of Nursing, Dept. of Microbiology, HICC & RCTID AIIMS Bhopal

Greetings from AIIMS Bhopal.

Nursing College AIIMS Bhopal organizes “Good Nursing Practices” academic activities from time to time. The present activity is being organized jointly by College of Nursing, Department of Microbiology, Hospital Infection Control Committee (HICC) and Resource Center of Tropical and Infectious Diseases (RCTID) AIIMS Bhopal.

Day in and out we deal with infected aerosols and other body fluids. Caring a patient with personal protection is need of the hour. Dealing infected patients is science. Health care science is ever changing and evidence based. Keeping that in mind, the theme of the present activity is “Infection control practices for nurses”. We will have didactic lectures, hands on workshop and one to one interaction during the process. The resource persons will be from premiere institutes like AIIMS New Delhi and AIIMS Bhopal.

To maintain the standard of highest professional efficiency we emphasize on quality. There are scopes of only 60 delegates to attend the workshop. Nursing students and practicing nurses all over the country are welcome to attend. Nursing student’s registration fees may be waived with certification from Principal or senior faculty. The registration fees will be Rs 500/- (Five hundred only) for delegates.

All registration (students / working nurses) will have to be done electronically. The registration fee has to be transferred through NEFT. The receipt of the NEFT transaction along with the filled up registration form in the prescribed format has to be sent to admin.rcid@aiimsbhopal.edu.in A confirmation mail will be sent to you within 24 hours, subject to availability of vacant slot.

All the best.
